2 Background

2.1 About Uttarakhand

Uttarakhand was formed on 9th November 2000 as the 27th State of India, when it was carved out of northern Uttar Pradesh. Located at the foothills of the Himalayan mountain ranges, it is largely a hilly State, having international boundaries with China (Tibet) in the north and Nepal in the east. On its north-west lies Himachal Pradesh, while on the south is Uttar Pradesh. The state is divided into two divisions, Kumaon and Garhwal, with 13 districts. The capital of Uttarakhand is Dehradun, which is the largest city in the region and is also well connected to rest of the country via rail, road and air ways.

The State is rich in natural resources such as forests, glaciers, rivers etc. and is also gifted with almost all major climatic zones, good rainfall, good rail and road communication, technical educational facilities, research laboratories, management institutes, etc.

With a view to catalyse growth in industrial sector which aims to utilize resources available in Uttarakhand and which can generate employment for local inhabitants, the State adopted “Ease of Doing Business” initiative of DPIIT, Government of India.

Uttarakhand was ranked at number 23 in 2015-16, number 9 in 2016-17, number 11 in 2017-18 and achievers in 2021 in the Ease of Doing Business (EODB) rankings by DPIIT.

2.2 Objective

The Government of India has undertaken series of reforms to make India into an easier place to do business. There is still a growing need to do a lot more to achieve the vision of becoming top State in ease of doing business. There are major requirements of business reform initiatives to be undertaken by the concerned Ministries and departments for promoting ease of doing business in the State.
